

BANDIT VILLA'S RAID!

Resident of Columbus, N. M., wounded when Villa bandits raided the village, being rushed to a hospital in El Paso, where all wounded were taken. The train carrying the wounded was met at the El Paso station by doctors and citizens who saw that they were well cared for.

CARRANZA STOPS TALK OF WAR WITH UNITED STATES

Mexico City, March 15.—Pres. Wilson's acceptance of Gen. Carranza's proposals has defeated well-laid plans to force American intervention, Carranza officials declared today.

Villa raid on Columbus, first chief firmly believes, was made with connivance of interested parties in the United States. Though he has no evidence, Gen. Carranza believes Villa was financed by American interests seeking to force intervention.

TODAY'S WORST RIDDLE

Question—What is the difference between a cloud and a whipped child?

Answer—One pours with rain and the other roars with pain.

(Don't hit him, boys, he just got back from Mexico.)

Queen Carmen Sylva of Roumania is dead. War-ridden Europe will find time to shed a tear at the news. The "little wild rosebud of Wied" had sung her way into the hearts of all good men and enmity and strife may well be forgotten for the moment.
